Notice.

To Wheelwrights, Blacksmiths, Tanners, Harness-Makers, Saddlers, Hatters, &c.

BELIEVING as I do, that Providence, B. at Fairfax Court-House, would be a suitable situation for mechanics of the above description, I offer to such, lots in that vil- lage for sale, on ground rent for ever—will build and furnish suitable houses and rent to them, or furnish brick to them to build with; and invite any who feel disposed to settle there, for the purpose of carrying on their respective trades to advantage, to come and view the situation. It is a very public place, the centre of the county, where the superior and county courts are held. The Little River Turnpike Road passes through this little town from Alex- andria westward, and where all the public meetings for the county, &c. are held; and where trades of the aforesaid description being carried on would meet with great encouragement, and be a public conve- nience to the country around. No situation can be more healthy—good water, and fire wood cheap. Mechanics of the above de- scription must generally depend on the country people, farmers, &c. to be their customers. Here they would be in a con- venient situation for all the purposes. I invite a call, and view for themselves. I would also furnish lots adjacent, from one to five acres each, for cultivation, pasture, &c. on moderate terms; all of which can be shown, and terms made known, on ap- plication to RICHD. CABINET-MAKERS.

RESPECTFULLY inform their friends and the public in general, that they still continue to carry on the above business in all its various branches, at the same old stand, Royal-st. between King and Prince, and have now on hand a handsome assor- tment of cabinet ware, all of their own ma- nufacture; consisting of side-boards, secre- taries and book cases, bureaux, ladies' work stands, mahogany and stained wood head- stands, cradles, sofas and easy-chairs, onn handsome mahogany writing desk, &c. &c. Also, on hand a large quantity of St. Do- mingo and Bay Mahogany, in log and boards, and cut to any dimensions at a short notice—four or five thousand feet of elegant veneers for bureaux and secretaries, all of which they are determined to sell low- er than the same quality can be had in the district. All kinds of upholstery work done as usual.

They would rent for one or more years a very excellent shop and yard for a car- penter, wheelwright, or blacksmith, situ- ated on Royal-street, between Prince and Duke street. Feb 11

SCRAPS

From late Foreign Papers.

BANK BILLS.

Among the novel and ingenious means suggested for increasing the difficulties of forgery in the case of Bank of England notes, is an invention which has been recently submitted to the consideration of the Bank directors. The method is, to introduce by a chemical process, into the substance of the notes, and during the manufacture of the paper, a small portion of a peculiar liquid gold, which shall have the appearance of what is termed artists dead metal gold, and which may be made to represent a variety of small numerical figures corresponding with the respective value of the several notes in which it may be inserted. The figures, it is maintained, cannot be imitated, except by those who are possessed of the inventor's secret mode of chemical preparation, and of the various mechanical apparatus by which his processes are carried on, and the apparatus, it appears, is so large, required to be worked by a steam engine, that counterfeits of such a fabric could not be produced, as under the present system in concealment or a corner—while the expense of the preparation is so small, though the most precious metal is employed in it, that, it is asserted, not to add more than two pence to the cost of the manufacture of a note, if the note be marked only with a single figure. Were such a plan adopted and to correspond with its pretensions, it would enable the public to form their judgement of a note, not as now, by poring over the water marks, and perplexing graphic lines, but by a single glance at a conspicuous and striking character, which the most illiterate might quickly learn to read and understand.

The art of PRINTING IN GOLD, which has been practised at different periods and with various degrees of success, has lately been revived in a more perfect and beautiful manner, than any other which has already appeared. It is scarcely possible to convey to those who have not witnessed its effect, the splendid character which this invention displays. Mr. Didot, of Paris, and Mr. Whitaker, of London, have produced some of the specimens of this art. Some specimens of golden printing, in a work consisting of colored plates of Pheasants, was lately published in France, where the name of each species, and the yellow tints on the feathers, were printed from the copper plate in gold ink.

The British society of arts have formally examined and reported on different specimens of bank bills as most difficult to be counterfeited. Among those presented and examined, they mention "engraving of a very peculiar description by Indians." The number of bills printed every day at the Bank of England, is stated at 30,000. We believe none are re-issued, after being returned. The cost of engraving must be great—for it is said not more than 6000 impressions can be struck on one copper plate.

The plan for Bank Bills to prevent counterfeiting, recommended in London by the Society of Arts, is an association of engraving on steel plates, and printing with diamond types.

ARTIC DISCOVERIES.

The board of longitude are authorised to, and have published the following scale of rewards: To the first ship that shall reach the longitude of 110 deg. west from Greenwich, or the mouth of Hearne's or Coppermine river, by sailing within the Arctic circle 15000—to the first ship that shall reach the longitude of 130 deg. west, or the Whale Island of M'Kenzie, by sailing within the Arctic circle 10,000—to the first ship that shall reach the longitude of 150 deg. west, by sailing westward within the Arctic circle, 12,000—the act having already allotted to the first ship that shall reach the Pacific Ocean by a north west passage the full reward of 120,000.—To the first ship that shall reach to 83 deg. of North latitude, 10,000—to 85 deg. 12,000—to 87 deg. 13,000—to 89 deg. 14,000—the act having already allotted to the first ship that shall reach to or beyond 90 deg. the full reward of 15,000.

The "Society for the Encouragement of Industry in France," has proposed the following prizes for the year 1819—For the application of the Steam Engine to Printing Presses, 2000 francs; for the fabrication of a new species of economical carpet, 2,000 francs; for the fabrication of an indestructible green color, preferable to the green of Scheele, 2,000 francs; for the discovery of the best process of pounding colors in oil and water to the degree of consistency required by artists 500 francs; for the manufacture of animal charcoal from other substances than bones, and by process different from that employed for preparing Prussian blue, 2,000 francs; for the manufacture of isinglass, 2,000 francs, for the discovery of a vegetable substance either natural or prepared, which will serve as a complete substitute for the leaves of mulberry in the rearing of silk worms, 2,000 francs.

IMPORTANT TO AGRICULTURISTS.

A gardener at Glasgow practices a mode of destroying Caterpillars which he discovered by accident. A piece of woolen rag had been blown by the wind into a currant bush; and when taken out was found covered by the leaf devouring insects. He immediately placed pieces of woolen cloth in every bush in his garden and found next day that the caterpillars had universally taken to them for shelter. In this way he destroys many thousands every morning.

The great Roman Critic pronounced the dramatic piece which pleased on a tenth repetition a work of superior merit. The tragedy of Mr. Payne, a native of Boston, has been performed in London fifty nights, and always received with very great applause.

The British Gallery of paintings was opened for the usual period on the first Feb. and in four days near 6000 dollars worth of pictures were sold at the artists own prices.

TYPHUS FEVER.

A London paper states that Dr. Smith, obtained from Parliament five thousand pounds for the following receipt for the cure of the Typhus Fever: "six drachms of powdered nitre, 6 do of oil of vitriol; mix them to a tea cup by adding to the nitre one drachm of the oil at a time. The cup to be placed during the preparation on a hot hearth, or a plate of heated iron, and the mixture stirred with a tobacco pipe. The cup to be placed in different parts of the sick room."

Dr. John Bingham, of Leixlip, had published in the Irish papers, the following as a successful mode of treating the malignant fever now so prevalent in that country. He observes that his own experience of its efficacy enables him to promulgate it with confidence. The remedy, in fact consists in the exhibition of MUSTARD. "From the favourable effect," observes Dr. B. "I have invariably found it to produce on the patient, I place great reliance on it, especially when administered in the early stage of the complaint, by giving the patient, if an adult, a tea spoonful, or two drachms, of common mustard, mixed in a tumbler of tepid water, which, in less than half an hour will produce a gentle, free, and salutary vomiting, merely disturbing the stomach of its contents; and, during its operation I give the patient about a quart of tepid water, as used in the ordinary vomits. Immediately on the mustard being taken into the stomach, it produces a glow of warmth which pervades the entire system, together with a singular sensation scarcely to be described, unless by the patients who have used it, that soon changes the skin from that hot dry and uncomfortable feel, always to be met in incipient fevers into a soft, moist, and cool state, which is succeeded by a gentle perspiration, and the re-establishment of the functions of the digestive organs. In about eight hours after the stomach has been emptied in the above manner, I give the patient (if full grown) four grains of calomel, and in the course of two hours after the calomel, I give a gentle saline purgative. With this prompt treatment, I have, in the majority of cases where the patients made application to me during the first two or three days of their complaining, rescued them from a complaint setting in with all its malignant features; and in the few instances in which I have not suppressed the epidemic in this way, I have found, that by having recourse to mustard, with other auxiliaries, in the future stages of the complaint, I was enabled almost invariably to announce the certain recovery of the patient."

Norfolk, May 10.

We have received from our Gibraltar correspondent a communication of the date of March the 10th. from which we have made the subjoined extracts, of no less interest than many a paragraph which has gone the round of publication in these dry times.

"The post from Cadiz this morning, informs me of the terrible consternation of the people there, in consequence of receiving intelligence of the capture of the Spanish frigate Maria Isabel, of 44 guns, with four transports having nearly 2000 troops on board, which sailed from Cadiz for Lima about two months ago. Our correspondent then gives the Spanish account of this disaster, which is nearly the same as the one which has already been published."

"My friend adds, that the intelligence is confirmed by the arrival of the Madrid mail, and that the sensation it produced in the metropolis was unexampled—it was the greatest damper of all their disasters since the commencement of the revolution. At the time of the arrival of this news in Cadiz, another expedition for Lima, of 2000 men, under convoy of the San Telmo, 74; Diana, 44; and 8 transports, was ready to sail; but the panic created by the loss of the first division, was so great that the proper authority deemed it expedient to wait the further orders of the king, after the unfortunate news should be made known to him. In consequence his majesty has directed the expedition to be delayed until the line of battle ships Alexander 1st. and San Fernando, and the frigate Pereuba, and more transports can be got ready—and when that will be, says my correspondent, heaven only knows. The effect of this intelligence, he further observes, will be a certain detention of the grand expedition for Buenos Ayres, for a very long time, if not a total abandonment of it."

For any public purpose you will please to put this mournful tale in a dress more suitable to the solemn dignity of the subject than I have leisure to give it—not forgetting the profound respect which your duty as caterers of good news obliges you to observe towards a nation in peace and amity with all the United States, (except Baltimore) and what your christian charities should cause you to feel for the misfortunes of the august protector of the inquisition, &c.—Meanwhile I shall not be ungrateful of my duty, in giving further accounts of the operations of this intelligence in Madrid, & elsewhere and really expect that I shall soon have something to communicate which will shew in your paper somewhat in the style of former times, when it was so common with you to say, "We stop the press to announce &c."

"I informed you in my last of the arrival of Wm. D. Robinson, Esq. at Cadiz, from Havana, where he had been confined by the royal authorities, in consequence of being captured with an insurgent party in Mexico; I have this day received intelligence from Cadiz, stating that "Mr. Robinson has been liberated from the Castle, for the present, by the Governor, upon his polo de honor" (patrole of honor) What circumstance has occasioned this act of clemency on the part of the Vice Roy elect of Buenos Ayres, I am not informed—but to give the due to his due, I should consider such an act of condescension towards myself under similar circumstances, as a piece of gentlemanly deportment, to say the least of it—and I have no doubt that Mr. R. would not feel himself insulted, if his Excellency as a further proof of his consideration was to order him to leave Cadiz and his majesty's dominions immediately.

"I shall prove myself a prophet, depend on it, (as a thousand others will do) with regard to the affairs of Spain, and may soon call your attention to things of more consequence than little fugitive paragraphs of news."

From the Cork Intelligencer of March 27. ANCIENT MEDAL.

Some months since several Letters appeared in our paper respecting the translation of the Hebrew characters of this Medal, in the possession of Mr. George Corlett. The correspondent of Wednesday last, states—

"That a fac simile of the Medal was taken, as soon as the inscription on it was found to be in Hebrew characters: and copies of it were sent to the Universities of the United Kingdom, as well as to several individuals of reputation as Antiquaries.—No doubt seems to exist that the overzeal of this medal bears a representation of the HEAD OF CHRIST; but the same unanimity of opinion does not prevail respecting the accurate meaning of the inscription. The following translations of the Hebrew characters, are prefixed to a short memoir of this antique Medal, relating to the circumstances connected with the finding of it, and the methods taken for exploring its designation and meaning, compiled and edited by the Rev. Thomas R. England—This small Tract does credit to the modesty and intelligence of the author."

Translation of the characters by Dr. Barrett, Vice Provost of Trinity College, Dublin.

"Messiah the King, came in peace; and being made the light of (or from) man, liveth." The four letters on the obverse, signify, "the Lord Jesus."

Translation of the same by the Rev. Dr.

Quarry, Rector of Mary Shandon, Cork. "Messiah reigneth; he came in a state of ignominy; on this day he hath arisen, (his) blood hath been shed, he liveth." The three letters in front of the face on the medal mean Jesu. The letter (Aleph) importing one, is the date from the latest event respecting Christ recorded in the inscription, namely, the Resurrection or Ascension.

Translation of the same, by the Rev. Dr. Hales, Rector of Killesandra, in the county of Cavan.

"The Lord Jesus"—"Christ the King came in peace, and the light from the man was made life."

Translation of the same by the Rev. Edward Hincks, Fellow of Trinity College, Dublin.

"Christ the King, came in peace, and the light from man became life;" or, "from sinful man, liveth."

(Unless memory deceives us very much we have seen some account of this remarkable medal before. Why have not all the circumstances attending the discovery, been related, attested in an authentic form and laid before the public? If the whole story is not a gross imposition, it is a piece of evidence stupendously important. Medals were struck to commemorate great events—events of general notoriety. To state a parallel case; what legislature, or what public body would dare, in the city of Baltimore, at the present day, to commemorate by such evidence, the resurrection of a body from the grave, if the fact did not exist. The circumstance must not only have happened, but it must likewise have been a matter of general notoriety that it did happen before any body of men whatever would have dared to have the deed attested by public medals. Congress have ordered medals to be struck on various occasions; on the naval victory obtained on Lake Erie for example;—would they have so far abused public credulity, as to have authorised this act, if Com. Perry had been defeated and taken prisoner? [Balt. Morn. Chron.]

ALEXANDRIA: FRIDAY, MAY 14, 1819.

The moment Johnson found himself the idol of fashion, his conceit of his own powers was without restraint—almost without decency. He arrogated the distinction of dictator in all companies, delivered his opinions with oracular promptitude and decision, and spurned with impatience and scorn, the most delicate contradiction. His respect for party, sex or individual, when the fit of talking had once seized him, could neither qualify or suppress a favorite paradox, a rude jest, or a bold apothegm.

His witticisms were rather strong and pointed, than fine and charming; and more calculated to render us dissatisfied with what we cannot help, than by a group of agreeable associations, to excite our gratitude for what we may still enjoy. No man ever discovered more humanity, or discovered it in a manner less capable of disguise than he did. His heart was in unison with every thing that could suffer. He had no equal in affording consolation to the sorrowful. Pity always made him serious; and he never deemed that an object of mirth, which tended by any means whatever to impair the happiness of society.

He had no levity of his own; and was so far from relishing it in others, that he never met with a facetious character in his life, which he did not either despise or treat with incivility. In short, his genius was fettered by melancholy and caprice; he was fond of appearing sententious, dispassionate and correct; and even his most sprightly ridicule was tinged with reflection and solemnity.

The anecdotes which have been told of him are endless. For many of them he is doubtless obliged to the fabrications of his friends as well as his enemies. Report, for a series of years, gave him credit for most of the best things that attracted public attention. Some of these appear only an improvement of others; the second edition of what did not please in the first, or an echo to sayings of which no trace probably remained on his memory but the sound. Whoever would make an accurate arrangement of them, must invariably adhere to arrangement. A great variety were dropped originally in bookseller's shops, where he always lounged away much of his time with a few literary and scientific men, whose intimacy and conversation it was his ambition to cultivate; and among people of fashion and distinction, of whose attentions, adulation and friendship he grew immoderately fond in the latter periods of his life.

Long before he broached the idea of his dictionary, or any other work which chiefly contributed to raise and establish his literary reputation, he was much with a bookseller of eminence, who frequently consulted him about manuscripts offered for sale or books newly published; but whenever Johnson's opinion differed from his, he would stare Johnson fell in the face, and remark, with much gravity and arrogance, "I wish you could write as well." This Johnson considered as literally telling a professional man, that he was an impostor, or that he assumed a character to which he was not equal; he therefore heard the gross imputation once or twice, with silent contempt. One day, however, in the presence of several gentlemen who knew them both, this bookseller, very incautiously threw out the same illiberal opinion.

Johnson could suppress his indignation no longer. "Sir," said he, "you are not competent to decide a question which you do not understand. If your allegations be true, you have the brutality to insult me with what is not my fault, but my misfortune:—if your allegations be not true, your impudent speech only shows how much more detestable a liar is than a brute."

The strong conclusive aspect and ferocity of manner which accompanied the utterance of these words, from a poor author to a purse-proud bookseller, made a deep impression in Johnson's favor, and secured him, perhaps, more respect and civility in his subsequent intercourse with the trade than any other transaction of his life.

Goldsmith, who disliked the prudery of Johnson's morals, and affected to ridicule the tupperry of Hawkesworth's manners, yet warmly admired the genius of both, used to say, among his acquaintance, that Johnson would have made a decent monk, and Hawkesworth a good dancing master.

Johnson often took his revenge. He had sarcasms at will for all persons and all places. One evening these two wits were in company with a lady they were both in the habit of visiting, and a large assemblage of fine women. Goldsmith, who was the most awkward creature imaginable in such a situation, overturned the tea things, as the servant presented him with his dish. He was speechless; and the ladies, after staring at each other, burst into a fit of laughter. Johnson only continued grave; and turning to the lady next him, "madam," said he, "can you tell how a man who shocks so much in company, can give so many exquisite charms to his writings?"

Johnson said never to have forgiven a lady then present, who affected to whisper, in a voice loud enough to be heard by the whole room, "these gentlemen publish so much delicacy, that they reserve none for private use."

But whatever may be thought of his genius, his science or his wit, the benevolence, the seriousness, and the religious tendency of his moral productions are eminent and incontestable. He never made any attempt in historical composition. In other walks of literature he had few superiors—in some, even few equals; and he was unquestionably the most popular author of the present age. His regard for religion was sacred and inviolable. Those virtues and qualities which administer to the decency and felicity of life, derived from his pen peculiar aid and illustration. He was the friend and advocate of whatever enlarges, heightens, refines or perfects the happiness of mankind. To this great and prevailing object, all his labors had an immediate reference; and his whole life, public and private, was consecrated to the welfare and honor of the species.

The hon. Ward Chipman, W. Chipman, Esq. and W. Odell, Esq. Commissioners under the Treaty of Ghent, have arrived at Boston, on their way from New-Brunswick to the Canadian line.

METEOROLOGICAL.

J. J. Astor, Esq. has kindly permitted an examination of a Journal kept at Astoria, at the mouth of the Columbia river, by an officer of his ship, the Beaver. It is regretted that a thermometer was not employed. From an examination of the journal, from March 1811, to March 1812, the following results have been formed, which afford a tolerable idea of the Meteorology of that position.

Cloudy	116
Rain	122
Clear	164
Fresh gales and squally	12
Snow	4
Hail	5
Thunder and lightning	3
Frost, hail, ice	3

The winds were principally from the w. and s. w. In May, 1811, they planted a garden with a variety of seeds, and sowed clover, timothy and other grass seeds. A turnip taken from the garden December 20, weighed 151 pounds, and was 33 inches in circumference. Radishes succeeded well. The officers and seamen kept the 4th of July in a proper manner. They had salmon through the summer, chiefly furnished by the Indians, who were, in general, friendly. Some of the salmon weighed 45 lbs each. Astoria is in latitude 46 degrees 15 minutes. Its mild temperature depends on the general winds passing over a large extent of ocean. In the middle latitudes in both hemispheres, the prevalent winds are from the western semicircle and the western shores of the two continents are warmer than the eastern. Liverpool, in latitude 53 deg. is warmer than Boston in latitude 42°.

Land for Sale.

I WILL sell a great bargain in a small tract of land, containing about 150 acres, more or less, lying on the Potomac river and Monroe's creek, between the two, on the north side said creek, and forming the mouth, whereon William Williams has for many years resided. This situation would be particularly convenient for any person who follows the water, the Creek forming an excellent harbor, and the neighborhood being wealthy, constant freights might be got. The land is susceptible of great improvement, and is the very best wheat land in all the neighborhood. As it is presumed any person wishing to purchase will first view the premises, a further description is thought unnecessary. For terms apply to the subscriber, near Mattox Bridge, Westmoreland county, Virginia.

District of Columbia,

County of Alexandria to Wit.

ON the petition of OLIVER SKINNER, an insolvent debtor confined in the jail of Alexandria county for debt, notice is hereby given to the creditors of the said Oliver Skinner, that on the first Monday in June next, at 8 o'clock, A. M. at the Court-house of said county, the oath prescribed by an act of Congress of the United States, entitled "An act for the relief of insolvent debtors within the District of Columbia," will be administered to the said insolvent, and a trustee appointed, unless sufficient cause to the contrary be then and there shown. Ordered, that this notice be published twice a week for two weeks, before that day, in both the newspapers published in Alexandria.

By order of the hon. W. Cranch, Chief Judge of the United States Circuit Court, for the District of Columbia.

For Sale,

A LIKELY young negro woman, an excellent house servant and sempstress. Enquire of Mr. Rounsavell, jailer, Alexandria.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber on the 17th March last, a negro woman named

She is 45 or fifty years of age, 5 feet 4 or 5 inches high, stout and well made, very black, has pointing lips, and is very impudent. She has not a grey hair in her head, and is very fat and healthy. She has relations in this vicinity, who are the property of Mr. Basil Hatton, and others living in Alexandria, the property of Messrs. Hunter and Harrison, who will probably preclude her discovery.

I will give 50 dollars if she is taken 50 miles from home, 100 dollars if 100 miles from home, and ten dollars if taken in Alexandria or its neighborhood, and brought home or secured in jail so that I get her again, and will pay all reasonable expenses.

French Language.

MR. DUWELZ has the honor to inform the ladies and gentlemen of Alexandria, that he intends to keep school, and give private lessons in the French language. Mr. Duwelz flatters himself that his mode of teaching will facilitate scholars, as well as give them a proper pronunciation.

Terms, 10 dollars per quarter—half in advance.—Fifty cents for each private lesson.—Enquire at this office.

May 13

Penmanship.

A PRACTICAL, easy running hand warranted, and no compensation received except there is an improvement made to the utmost satisfaction of the young ladies and gentlemen who attend.

Those disposed may try the experiment during 12 hours, at the end of which time, if their improvement does not meet their approbation, they may withdraw and no charge made. And further, if those scholars who continue on through the 16 lessons, do not in their own estimation, or in the estimation of their parents or guardians, make more improvement than is generally made in two years, in the old way of teaching, it is requested that no one pay anything.

During the 16 lessons are taught the small running hand, secretary and Italian hand, the last of which is particularly fashionable for young ladies.

The teacher having had nearly eight years experience at various seminaries of learning and in the principal cities and towns in the United States, offers the advantage of this long experience to all those who apply, during the present week, after which none can be received.

Those disposed to engage, may apply at the writing room, Washington-street, two doors north of King-street, where may be seen specimens of hand writing, acquired in less than one week. Application must be made during the present week—after which not one scholar will be received.

A class of young ladies may attend at any separate hours, either in the morning or evening; and also young ladies who prefer it may take lessons at home.

As this plan of writing embraces the two essential qualities of a good penman, ease and elegance; and as the time necessary to acquire it is merely nothing, it is believed, if its real utility were fully known, not one person of any age, who has the least wish of improving his hand writing, would hesitate to try the experiment. Perhaps this opportunity may not offer again in Alexandria for many years.

D. HEWETT.

N. B. All are taught to make their own pens.

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Potobek creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shade and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided, if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaster acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain; being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary out-house, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 300 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all night), have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvas backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment. Letters must be addressed to me at Potobek Church, Fairfax county, Virginia.
September 4 GEORGE MASON.

Valuable Property for Sale.
The subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence. The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables. There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutritious as the best timothy or clover. With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow—it would be sold with the other separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NORBERT HERBERT, Esq., or FRANCIS ADAMS, Jr.

Blacking for Boots & Shoes, Superior to any ever offered to the public.

ROBERT COCHRAN, No. 48, North Fourth-street, next door to the Green Tree Inn, Philadelphia.

WITH confidence offers to the public, his superior Portable and Liquid blacking, so much admired and approved of, which is manufactured by himself only.

This blacking possesses every desirable quality, being of an oily nature, it preserves the leather perfectly soft to the last, and keeps it from cracking—it is a jet black, affords a most superlative polish, entirely free from any offensive smell, and so clean as not to soil the whitest muslin or any other substance, it may chance to run against, and will keep in any climate—it has a peculiar advantage in being put up in a portable manner, and may be packed without possibility of rick, with the nicest clothes or goods. The Portable Blacking is much adapted for gentlemen residing or travelling in the country, where materials for making Blacking is not to had, and as for cheapness and elegance, far exceeds any ever imported or manufactured in the union.

Where is sold as above, the beautiful Chinese Liquid Blacking, for ladies' morocco boots and shoes, which makes the oldest morocco boots or shoes appear the same as when new. Sold wholesale at the manufactory, as above.

N. B. Please observe that each bottle is sealed and signed by the proprietor, to prevent spurious impressions being imposed on the public.

It may be had at the following places in Alexandria.—Dr. Stabler and Richard Woods on Fairfax street.—Dr. Semmes, & Dr. Little's apothecary shops, on King-street.—Isaac Entwistle, shoe factory, and Thomas Mount's factory & Hardware store on King-street. sw2m March 20

Charlotte Hall School.

THE board of trustees for Charlotte Hall school deem it their duty to announce to the public, the present flourishing condition of this institution. Since the introduction of the present professors, the school has rapidly progressed in the public estimation.

When Philip Briscoe, esq. was called to assume the office of Principal, there were but 27 pupils. The liberality of the State Legislature of 1817, enabled the trustees to retain his services and those of Mr. Millmore for the classical department—the Reverend Mr. Neale H. Shaw has also been retained as professor of mathematics, and he is aided in that department by Mr. Sweetsee, a gentleman in high estimation as a professor. Under the management of these gentlemen the school has now 95 boys; and very many applications have already been made for entrance and board.

Heretofore a portion of the boys have been compelled to board at the neighboring houses at too great a distance from the school; the trustees are now making arrangements which will enable fifty boys more to be accommodated immediately at the school; so that at all times the Principal will be enabled to exercise a general superintendence over their moral deportment (to the corruption of which, the boys in this retired village have but few temptations). The board will remark to those who are unacquainted with this place, that no part of Maryland is more distinguished for its general healthiness. The price of board is only 100 dollars a year. The tuition is now but 28 dollars a year! It will be raised after August to 32 dollars—a price much lower, however, than any of the public schools of our state.

It is intended then by the trustees to select four boys (of poor and indigent parents) of promise, and to board, clothe, and educate them entirely at the expense of the institution, and afterwards to labor to procure them that station to which their talents and conduct may entitle them.

Signed, by order, NEALE H. SHAW, Reg'r. Charlotte-Hall, April 22—[May 7]

Musical Tuition.

L. I. LARKIN, professor of music, respectfully informs his late subscribers, as also the public in general, that he has taken the house in Fairfax-street lately occupied by Mr. Drew, where he will give instructions in vocal music, (on an entire new plan, embracing the rudiments of vocal as well as instrumental music). He also teaches the clarinet, flute, violin, bassoon, French horn, &c.

N. B. Ladies waited on at their respective residences, and taught the single or double flageolet.

Songs, sonnets, &c. set to music for a single instrument, or arranged for the piano forte. Music neatly copied.

S. A. Marsteller

OFFERS his services in addition to the public sale of lands, &c. the barter and sale at private of lands, leases, rents, &c. He has at present a number of lots and houses in town the of Alexandria, for sale. Also, several tracts in the adjoining country; lots in the city of Washington; and one or more tracts in a fine settled part of Tennessee. For particulars enquire at the auction office, corner of Prince and Water streets. may 10

Vaccine Institution.

THE small-pox having appeared in Alexandria, such persons as have been vaccinated by the subscriber are invited to attend at his office, on St. Asaph-street, between Prince and Duke streets, to have their arms examined. Indigent persons are also invited to the same place for the purpose of being vaccinated. The subscriber will attend at his office every day in the week except Sunday, from 7 o'clock until 10 in the morning, for the purpose of receiving them.

He proposes also to be less particular than heretofore in the investigation of their claims to the benefit of the institution, as may respect their indigence and length of residence in town. The subscriber earnestly requests all such citizens as may be acquainted with persons liable to contagion, to send them without delay as above directed, where they will be served effectually and gratuitously.
